International Perennial Society

presents:

FUTURE DAYS 2027

SAVE THE DATE!

7-8 October

Future Days is an international event for perennial growers, nursery owners, and garden designers focused on the future of the perennial industry.

Attendees from Europe will meet at Stayokay Soest, near Utrecht, the Netherlands, for inspiring discussions and idea exchanges in a beautiful woodland setting.

"Perennials in a Changing Climate"

How is climate change affecting the cultivation and use of perennials? Growers and designers from Europe will share experiences and discuss future challenges and opportunities.

Optional Excursion - 9 October

An optional excursion will feature visits to nurseries and gardens linked to the conference theme, including Kwekerij De Hessenhof, one of Europe's leading perennial nurseries.
